

CTE U.S. Presidential Scholars Program

The U.S. Presidential Scholars Program was established by President Lyndon Johnson in 1964, and, since that time, the program has honored more than over 7,000 outstanding high school seniors. The mission of the program is to recognize and honor outstanding high school seniors, and thereby encourage high attainment among all students.

Per the original Executive Order establishing the program, students are selected on the basis of outstanding scholarship. For most of the program's existence, nominees have been invited to apply for recognition based upon SAT or ACT scores. As the program has grown, candidates have been invited to apply in other ways as well. Last year, the first group of outstanding students who demonstrate excellence in CTE were included for recognition.

Since 2013, Chief State School Officers have been invited to nominate candidates from their states for the General component of the program. The Montana Superintendent of Public Instruction is asking for our help in nominating up to five candidates for the U.S. Presidential Scholars in CTE.

All high school seniors that are CTE Concentrators (3 Credits or more of CTE) and graduating between January and June of 2020, who are U.S. citizens or legal permanent residents and who attend public, parochial, or independent schools, as well as those who are home-schooled, are eligible. The candidates will go through the application process, and as in the past, the 2020 U.S. Presidential Scholars will be selected by the Commission on Presidential Scholars and receive the Presidential Scholars Medallion at a ceremony in their honor in Washington, DC.

Consider the following questions as you contemplate the selection of your nominees:

1. What about the student makes him or her stand out as having outstanding scholarship?
2. What about the student shows strong ability and accomplishment in career and technical education fields?
3. Were there special challenges or hurdles this student has overcome while still achieving high academic success?

In addition, it may be useful for you to know that the reviewers will be considering the following categories when evaluating the nominees at the semifinalist and Scholar evaluation levels:

- Involvement and Service (in school and community)
- Leadership and Character
- Writing samples
- Academic achievements
- Discretionary points for extraordinary achievement, heavy workload, family responsibilities, or obstacles overcome.

Montana Office of Public Instruction will submit the names of the top ten CTE students they feel are the top candidates from Montana CTE programs to receive this recognition to the Montana State Superintendent of Public Instruction who will forward the top five names to the National Selection Committee. The deadline for submission is October 15, 2019.

Process:

Montana CTE Content Area Specialists will contact their MACTE divisions as well as the CTSOs and ask for a maximum of 5 nominees from each division that represent their top candidates for the award. The OPI Specialists will also send out information to the field on the process. The nominations from the field will go to the Montana OPI Content Area Specialists. The Specialist is responsible for determining, with their affiliate groups (teacher education group, applicable CTSOs, etc.) the process for which the top five candidates will be determined from their service area.

The attached nominations forms that include the above criteria are to be sent to via electronic format:

Agriculture – Shannon Boswell - Shannon.Boswell@mt.gov

Business – Eric Swenson - ESwenson@mt.gov

Family & Consumer Sciences – Megan Vincent - MVincent2@mt.gov

Health Science – Renee Erlandsen - rerlandsen@mt.gov

Industrial Technology – Mike Houghton - michael.houghton@mt.gov

The Montana OPI Specialists will submit the maximum of 5 nominees from their division by 10/15 at midnight.

On November 1, 2019 the CTE Division of OPI will forward ten nominations to the Montana Superintendent of Public Instruction.

On November 15, 2019 the Superintendent of Public Instruction will forward the top five nominations to the National Selection Committee.

Questions on the process should be directed to:

T. J. Eyer, Division Administrator for CTE, teyer@mt.gov , 406-444-7915.
