Writing to Learn in All Classrooms Course Series
Offered for the K-2, 3-5, middle and high school grade bands, these courses provide specific strategies for teachers to enhance their writing instruction in all classrooms and across discipline areas.

Resilience: Strategies to Increase Optimism
Creating joyful classrooms provides the backdrop for students to be successful in their education. This course provides specific strategies to support students to grow in optimism, motivation, and build resilience. Help make your classroom a trauma-informed and resilience-engaged space to help all students thrive. Created by Dr. Tammy Elser, Salish Kootenai College and Christy Mock-Stutz, Helena Middle School Literacy Coordinator.

An Introduction to Indian Education for All in Montana
This course provides a basic foundation for implementing Indian Education for All (IEFA) in your classroom. IEFA offers students an opportunity to meet academic standards in multiple content areas and grade levels as they learn about the distinct and unique cultures and heritages of American Indians. Created by Mike Jetty, OPI Indian Education Specialist.

Educating Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness

Teacher Learning Hub – Online, Free Courses
The teacher learning hub does not offer a course dedicated to information on student homelessness. However, the Hub does offer a number of courses with relevant material on topics that touch on the challenges and experiences faced by these students.

Child Trafficking Awareness & Prevention
This course will assist educators and school staff in increasing their awareness of the signs of child trafficking. Participants will learn how to identify possible victims and how to advocate to assist them in accessing services and assistance.

Mandatory Reporting for Educators
In this course, participants will learn how to recognize the indicators of possible child abuse and neglect, how to report concerns to the Montana Child and Family Services Division, and what happens afterward.

Mental Health & Behavior
Each of the 22 course offerings under this category may be relevant to the work of educators supporting students and families experiencing homelessness. Courses on suicide are strongly recommended, as 35% of students experiencing homelessness reported both suicidal ideation and at least one suicide attempt on the 2019 YRBS.

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) was first passed in 1965, becoming the U.S. Department of Education’s primary funding vehicle for providing resources to the nation’s schools. Every few years since 1965, the “Act” has been modified and reauthorized. Consequently, since it has been a reauthorization of the same Act, the general name, ESEA, has remained the same. The most recent act, the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama on December 10, 2015.

In general, the ESEA/ESSA Act of 2015 includes provisions that will help ensure success for students and schools. Listed below are a few highlights of the law:

1. Advances equity by upholding critical protections for America’s disadvantaged and high-need students.
2. Requires for the first time, that all students in America be taught to high academic standards that will prepare them to succeed in college and careers.
3. Ensures that vital information is provided to educators, families, students, and communities through annual statewide assessments that measure students' progress toward those high standards.
4. Helps to support and grow location innovations, including evidence-based and place-based interventions developed by local leaders and educators, consistent with our investing in Innovation and Promise Neighborhoods.
5. Sustains and expands this administration's historic investments in increasing access to high-quality preschool.
6. Maintains an expectation that there will be accountability and action to effect positive change in our lowest-performing schools, where groups of students are not making progress, and where graduation rates are low over extended periods of time.

The major federal educational programs authorized under the ESEA/ESSA are Title I, Part A; Title I, Part C; Title I, Part D; Title II, Part A; Title III, Title IV Subpart 1 & 2; Title V, Subpart 1 & 2; and Title IX, McKinney-Vento Homeless Education.

Angela Branz-Spall - Migrant Education Director

Email: abranzspall@mt.gov, Phone: 406.444.2423

The following links provide resources regarding the SEA-administered Title I Part C Migrant Education Program, including statutory and regulatory information, eligibility requirements, reporting requirements, professional development opportunities, Consortium Incentive Grant programs and service delivery options. For further information, please contact Angela Branz-Spall at 406-444-2423/406-459-6368.

RESULTS In-depth information regarding legislation and policy, tools and curriculum, and a resource library can be found on this website. Materials such as self-guided manuals and training regarding proper identification and recruitment of migratory children and tool kits for the development of a statewide needs assessment, service delivery plan and comprehensive evaluation are all available on this site.

The Migratory Parent Empowerment Consortium (MPEC) is a consortium of 9 states including Hawaii, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, and Virginia. MPEC is designed to strengthen the involvement of migratory parents in the education of their children, including supporting their children’s mathematics skills needed to be successful in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields. Migratory parents can support their child’s literacy and mathematics skills by using resources accessed through the Parent Portal of the Migrant Literacy NET. MEP staff participating in MPEC training increase their capacity to conduct project activities and provide services to migratory parents which strengthens their involvement in their child’s education. Migratory students use the consortium’s online mathematics and reading tutorials with support from their parents to improve their mathematics skills, while migratory parents also use online parent/child literacy tutorials to increase their own capacity to provide parent guided learning in the home.

Inspire and Innovate: Migratory Parent Coalition (I2MPACT) is designed to support state migrant education programs (MEPs) to increase parent involvement through an expanded understanding of parent involvement and improved parent involvement activities. I2MPACT’s work supports member states’ parent involvement activities identified in their Service Delivery Plans, expanding the notion of parent involvement to family engagement. Pennsylvania serves as the lead state for I2MPACT with member states: Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, and Montana. Using this resource, MEP staff will increase their capacity to facilitate parent involvement activities in ways that are more relevant and accessible for migratory families. I2MPACT aims to strengthen the involvement of migratory parents in the education of their children, and it aims to increase educational opportunities by reducing academic or nonacademic barriers due to economic mobility.

The Minnesota Migrant Education Resource Center or MMERC is an educational resource center whose mission is to provide resources and raise awareness of the migrant student lifestyle and educational needs. The MMERC lending library supports educators who serve migrant students (ages 3 to 21) in Minnesota and Montana. MMERC’s collection of over 15,000 materials supports all K-12 academic areas. Educational resources available include Thematic Multi-Media Unit Boxes, Bilingual and Cultural Materials; Educational Games and Manipulatives, Reading Kits, ESL Resources, Ready-to-Use Center Activities, STEM Resources, Ozobots, LEGOS and more. Visit the online catalog for a listing of available resources. The MMERC Services include free shipping, resource selection assistance, and staff development.
