| Lewis & Clark | Department of Corrections-Youth 9073 | Pine Hills Youth Correctional Facility HS 9415 | ADVICE | Student Performance - Mathematics | Pine Hills School serves a unique population of students with very specific personal and educational needs. The steps that we take to bridge academic gaps when students are enrolled in our program are prioritizing HiSET/Graduation completion. Many of our students have IEPs or other considerations that require a less traditional pathway for standardized testing. Our HiSET pass rate, graduation rate and MAPS testing scores have proven to be a successful method for our students, as many of them transition into the workforce and some even go on to pursue secondary education. I would recommend that you consider these other three factors in addition to ACT scores, as I believe they will give a more complete picture of the overall success of our education program. We are continually evaluating and making improvements in our program. Some of the more recent steps that we've taken include implementing EdReady curriculum, focusing our teacher retention efforts for fully licensed teachers not on provisional licenses and continuing with | Student Performance - English Language Arts | As previously described, the unique needs of our student body require a more customized approach to achieve academic goals such as graduation or awarded HiSET diploma. As part of our program, we've prioritized continuing our partnership with the University of Alabama to assess and implement Self Regulation Strategy Development (SRSD) to aid in improving student literacy and language skills. This partnership gives us hands-on research led best practices that informs the curriculum in our English department. We continue to improve this program by attending conferences with the U of A team, and recently hosted them on-site to further refine the implementation of the program. | | | | | | | | |
| Lewis & Clark | Department of Corrections-Youth 9073 | Pine Hills Youth Correctional Facility HS 9415 | ADVICE | Student Performance - Science | Pine Hills School was utilizing Odysseyware as a means of providing Science content to our students this past year. We were unsuccessful in recruiting a licensed Science teacher. Recently, we did recruit a properly credentialed teacher who has been successful and instrumental in providing hands-on learning experiences for our students to help them learn. Her instructional strategies and years of experience have already increased our student test scores (MAPS). We will continue to monitor these achievement gaps and provide support to the instructor and students throughout this year. | | | | | | | | | | |
