1. Access to ACT’s Web sites by users who are not authorized by ACT’s Test Administration Staff is prohibited unless such unauthorized users fall within the categories described in the Supervisor’s Manual. ACT’s Test Administration Staff reserves the right to apply restrictions to user access to ACT’s Web sites based on certain factors, including, but not limited to, the age of the user, the purpose of access, and the handling and security of data. ACT’s Web sites are not designed for use by children and are intended for use solely by qualified Test Administration Staff. ACT reserves the right to terminate a user’s access at any time, including, but not limited to, the following reasons: (a) failing to properly report and document incidents of prohibited behavior involving examinees, staff, or others; (b) failing to read test administration scripts verbatim as required by the appropriate Supervisor’s Manual or other policy and procedure documents; (c) failing to verify the identities of examinees or test centers; (d) providing unapproved test accommodations to an examinee; (e) creating an answer key or “crib sheet” of answers to test questions; (f) giving test materials to a third party; (g) using prohibited materials; (h) using prohibited test accommodations; (i) altering test protocols; (j) using prohibited test accommodations; (k) using prohibited test accommodations; (l) using prohibited test accommodations; (m) using prohibited test accommodations; (n) using prohibited test accommodations; (o) using prohibited test accommodations; (p) using prohibited test accommodations; (q) using prohibited test accommodations; (r) using prohibited test accommodations; (s) using prohibited test accommodations; (t) using prohibited test accommodations; (u) using prohibited test accommodations; (v) using prohibited test accommodations; (w) using prohibited test accommodations; (x) using prohibited test accommodations; (y) using prohibited test accommodations; (z) using prohibited test accommodations. Students are permitted to access ACT’s Web sites only for purposes of study and research that are not for personal or commercial gain. ACT reserves the right to deny access to ACT’s Web sites to any user who, in ACT’s sole discretion, fails to comply with these terms and conditions of use or who engages in any conduct that is prohibited by these terms and conditions of use or any conduct that, in ACT’s sole discretion, violates the rights of others or any applicable law.

2. ACT reserves the right to change, modify, add, or remove portions of these terms and conditions of use at any time and for any reason, without notice. Your continued use of ACT’s Web sites following the posting of changes to these terms and conditions of use constitutes your consent to such changes. ACT suggests that you periodically review these terms and conditions of use to stay informed of any changes.

3. ACT reserves the right to refuse access to ACT’s Web sites to any user who, in ACT’s sole discretion, fails to comply with these terms and conditions of use or who engages in any conduct that is prohibited by these terms and conditions of use or any conduct that, in ACT’s sole discretion, violates the rights of others or any applicable law.

4. ACT reserves the right to take any action it deems necessary and appropriate to protect its rights, interests, and property and those of its users, including, but not limited to, blocking access to ACT’s Web sites or taking legal action.

5. ACT reserves the right to change its Privacy Policy at any time. If ACT makes any material changes to its Privacy Policy, it will post a notice on ACT’s home page informing users of the change. Users are encouraged to review the Privacy Policy periodically for any changes.

6. ACT reserves the right to change, modify, add, or remove portions of these terms and conditions of use at any time and for any reason, without notice.
